BEF Supports Writer in Residence Program

Oak View School was filled with aspiring writers and illustrators this Spring! We were fortunate to receive a matching grant from the Oak View Home and School Association and the Bloomfield Educational Foundation that enabled our students to work with a published author and illustrator.

The author, Dar Hosta James visited Oak View on March 31st, April 1st and April 2nd. Throughout the week she showed our students the actual process of creating and illustrating books and visited every grade level where students experienced various workshops that encouraged the creative artistic and writing and process. This culminated in a “Family Author’s Night” where students and parents participated in fun writing activities.

One of our parents, Mrs. Jaime Menake, was the mastermind behind this project and worked tirelessly to make our three-day event a huge success! The workshops our students experienced brought writing and illustrating to life and showed them how much fun it can be! Many of our students are now thinking about becoming future authors. The Oak View staff and students truly appreciate both the Oak View Home and School and the Bloomfield Educational Foundation for providing the funds for this wonderful opportunity.
